In an effort to deliver all of the best bands that you haven't heard of yet, Zoomoozik.com continues signing great new artists at an exciting rate. Zoomoozik.com has, once again, delivered new music that has, up until now, gone unnoticed in today's oversaturated music market.

Take the time to check out this week 's new Zoomoozik.com artists:

- NEW ZOO ARTISTS -

ECHOHEAD

Formed in 2006, Rochester New York's Echohead continues to exemplify what true authentic original music really is. The group found its origins when songwriter - guitarist Ryan Begley decided to collaborate with multi instrumentalist and songwriter Jon Monga. After writing, developing and playing a few catchy originals, Ryan and Jon decided to bring drummer and multi instrumentalist Jeff Gillette on to the writing squad to add yet another dimension to the already depth filled project. This was the birth of Echohead.

KONSTRICTSHUN

Steve Kitt, CEO of Trackheadz.com had this to say in a letter to Konstrictshun. "You know what makes me mad? When talented artists like you aren't heard around the world! You rank among the best! The song, 'It's The Dummmest Shit,' is hot, and the video adds a new dimension to your repertoire. You have a great look and your lyrical style is tight!"

J. SCHNITT

Mix one part dust-bowl troubadour with 2 parts indie-rocker along with a dash of mad-scientist... This just may be the perfect pairing of ingredients that make up the introspective singer-songwriter known as J. Schnitt.

J. Schnitt has been called a unique, prolific, and incredibly gifted songwriter who's songs stick to you, go to bed with you, and sleep with you.

CALEA

Calea started in the summer of 2006 as a four-piece and soon added an additional guitarist in early 2007 when the band became the solid five man collaborative effort that it is today. Influenced by the lack of a proper music scene in their home town of Long Island, Calea has been propelling itself on listeners and exerting itself on stage since the beginning of the year. Calea's incredibly heavy sound is bound to make for a very intense, high energy show, as well as an insane listening experience.

D has been creating and developing his craft since his early years in high school. His upbeat Latin style comes from an honest sense of being true to his music and his fans. "I always try to come up with new ideas and create music that people can relate to on a daily basis," reports D on his Zoomoozik profile. He goes on to say "I believe that in order to create good music you need good material that people will be interested in, and most important, giving 100 percent to everything you do."
